GOSPEL

Reading of the Holy Gospel according to Saint John (15, 9-17)

Jesus said to his disciples: "As the Father loves me, so I also love you. Remain in my love. If you keep my commandments, you will remain in my love, just as I have kept my Father's commandments and remain in his love.

"I have told you this so that my joy may be in you and your joy might be complete. This is my commandment: love one another as I love you. No one has greater love than this, to lay down one's life for one's friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. I no longer call you slaves, because a slave does not know what his master is doing. I have called you friends, because I have told you everything I have heard from my Father. It was not you who chose me, but I who chose you and appointed you to go and bear fruit that will remain, so that whatever you ask the Father in my name he may give you. This I command you: love one another."

REFLECTION

We are asked to give ourselves entirely to God. And in whatever ways we come to know this, the thought alone can be difficult to live up to.

Today's Gospel reminds us that we are the chosen ones. We have chosen God, yes, but it is he who has chosen us, that we may become his children.

He tells us to remain in his love. Again, a difficult commandment to live up to. How do we do this? We do it by again following his words and loving one another. It is excruciatingly difficult to do this on the level God wants us to love. You see, loving those who love us is something anyone can do. We are being asked to love those who persecute us, to love those who hate us. Make no mistake: this is what sets us apart from others. And, because Christ gave this to us as his only commandment, we know two things: 1. that it possible to attain even if difficult, and 2. that it should be at the forefront of all of our life, all of the time.

Yet, just as Christ forgave us, the people who persecuted him, and calls us friends, so we are asked by by Jesus to call friends those whom we don't always like.

Much of the media - which is nowadays the shop frontage of life - tells us to seek blame. The world is suffering from a dearth of joy. Yet Christ tells us this: 'I have told you this so that my own joy may be in you and your joy be complete.'

This is our vocation, then, that our joy may be complete by loving him, by allowing him to love us through everyone around us. Let us with our whole hearts enter into Christ's single commandment to love one another, and ask the Holy Spirit who convinces us of the meaning and the value if the Christian way, to lead us to fullness in him.
