GOSPEL

Reading of the Holy Gospel according to Saint Mark (8, 27-35)

Jesus and his disciples set out for the villages of Caesarea Philippi. Along the way he asked his disciples, "Who do people say that I am?" They said in reply, "John the Baptist, others Elijah, still others one of the prophets." And he asked them, "But who do you say that I am?" Peter said to him in reply, "You are the Christ." Then he warned them not to tell anyone about him.

He began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer greatly and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and rise after three days. He spoke this openly. Then Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him. At this he turned around and, looking at his disciples, rebuked Peter and said, "Get behind me, Satan. You are thinking not as God does, but as human beings do."

He summoned the crowd with his disciples and said to them, "Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me. For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and that of the gospel will save it."

REFLECTION

Peter and the other disciples found it difficult to understand that Jesus must suffer a terrible death for the salvation of all. We look back to that awful, desolate moment after Jesus's capture when he was led away and the disciples dispersed, not knowing what to do. That moment of anguish is something that we, as Christians of the 21st century, also experience. Terrible trauma brings with it a level of desolation beyond what any of us would wish upon our worst enemies. It is a desolation of not knowing, of being aware that we live inside a situation that we cannot comprehend and that causes such pain.

The moment when Peter said 'You are the Christ' is known as the Petrine Declaration and it is a statement of great clarity. What we see in Peter today, far from being an attitude to discourage us, should be a great source of strength. We, too, suffer the same lack of insight, the same inability to digest the mystery of suffering. We tend to see this as a failing on our part; we tend to think that we should overcome such lack of insight. Through the Gospel we glean a most wonderful truth, and it is this: we DO NOT NEED to fully understand. Instead, we should see Jesus's example and emulate it.

Unlike the Disciples, we know the Passion and Death of Christ, we reenact it each year and at every Mass we are invited to enter into that story for our own salvation. Peter did not have that knowledge. Not until later, when the words of Jesus came true. Yet, we are caught in our own cycles of pain and suffering, and this can be just as difficult as what Peter experienced because it effects our faith in God.
